6:00 P.M.

Holiday Inn East
4801 E. Broad
(Hwy. 16 Exit Hamilton Rd. N.)
Columbus, Ohio

Selling items from the Raymond Wishard Collection and rarities purchased by John Roller from the Henry Taylor Collection.

This is a really outstanding assortment of carnival glass. There are several "one of a kind" items included, as well as other scarce and highly desirable pieces. All the rarities are by no means listed under the "Rare" category. We are sure most collectors are aware of which patterns and colors are difficult to obtain, so we have placed quite a few of the rare items in their proper categories. Just for an example--look under "Pitchers", "Tumblers", "Plates", "N Grape", etc., and we are sure you will agree that many of those items could be correctly listed as "Rare".

The glass will be on display beginning at noon Friday. At 4:30 p.m., a buffet will be available.

There is no admission charge at the auction. Register at the door for your buying number.

Terms: Cash or check with proper identification.

Columbus Auction Prices

IMPORTANT FOREWORD -- Many pieces with minor damage and/or in poor color brought low prices at the carnival auction Friday, Mar. 29, at Columbus, O.

For example, this was true of such well known plates as the blue Elks at $300; blue Soldiers & Sailors, $4.05; Age Herald at $750; and even the purple Farmyard bowl, at $1,400, which seemed to have poor color.

John Roller of Pearisburg, Va., supplied many rarities formerly owned by Henry Taylor of Beloit, Wis. Raymond Wishard of Chambersburg, Pa., brought 300 pieces, some of which survived the fire at his home about 4 years ago. This was the third large sale at which Wishard disposed of about 300 pieces including some good carnival but also many pieces which he considered less desirable and many culls.

Due to the poor condition and the several pieces returned, the sale did not end until 1 a.m. Saturday. Several told John Woody, manager, that in future auction sale bills he should identify in printing all damaged pieces as damaged.
